

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

INDEFINITE

1) Present Indefinite

Positive Sentences

Examples

I write a letter.
He gets up early in the morning.
Sun rises in east.

I sing a song.
He drinks water.
They read lessons
Birds chirp
John reaches home in time.
Water maintains its surface level.

Negative Sentences

Examples

I do not write a letter.
He does not get up early in the morning.
Sun does not rise in east.

I do not sing a song.
He does not drink water.
They do not read lessons.
Birds do not chirp.
John does not reach home in time.
Water does not maintain its surface level.

Interrogative Sentences

Do I write a letter?
Does he get up early in the morning?
Does sun rise in east?

Do I sing a song?
Does he drink water?

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Do they read lessons?
Do birds chirp?
Does John reach home in time?
Does water maintain its surface level?

2) Past Indefinite

Positive Sentence

Examples

I killed a snake
He eat a mango.

He gave me a gift.
They went to cinema.
She wrote a letter to him.
I made a table.
You answered correctly.

Negative Sentences

Examples.

I did not kill a snake
He did not eat a mango

He did not give me a gift
They did not go to cinema.
She did not write a letter to him.
I did not make a table.
You did not answer correctly.

Interrogative Sentences

Examples

Did I kill a snake?
Did he eat a mango?

Did he give me a gift?
Did they go to cinema?

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Did she write a letter to him?
Did I make a table?
Did you answer correctly?

3) Future Indefinite

Positive sentence

Examples

I will buy a computer tomorrow.
They will come here.

He will start a business.
She will send me a letter.
I will give you a pen tomorrow
Students will take exams at the end of semester.
They will buy a new car.
The Pattern of exam will change next year.

Negative sentence

Examples

I will not buy a computer tomorrow.
They will not come here.
He will not start a business.
She will not send me a letter.
I will not give you a pen tomorrow
Students will not take exams at the end of semester.
They will not buy a new car.
The pattern of exam will not change next year.

Interrogative sentence

Examples

Will I buy a computer tomorrow?
Will they come here?
Will he start a business?
Will she send me a letter?

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Will I give you a pen tomorrow?
Will students take exams at the end of semester?
Will they buy a new car?
Will the Pattern of exam change next year?

CONTINUOUS

1) Present Continuous

Positive sentence

Examples

I am playing cricket.
He is driving a car.
They are reading their lessons.

I am listening to the news.
You are washing your clothes.
She is riding on horse.
They are playing football.

Negative Sentence

Examples

I am not playing cricket.
He is not driving a car.
They are not reading their lessons.

I am not listening to the news.
You are not washing your clothes.
She is not riding on a horse.
They are not playing football.
It is not raining.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Interrogative Sentences

Am I playing cricket?
Is he driving a car?
Are they reading their lessons?
Am I listening to the news?
Are you washing your clothes?
Is she riding on a horse?
Are they playing football?
Is it raining?

2) Past continuous

Positive sentences

Examples

She was crying yesterday.
They were climbing on a hill.
They were laughing at the joker.
He was taking exam last month.
She was working in a factory.
It was raining yesterday.

Negative sentences

Examples

She was not crying yesterday.
They were not climbing on a hill.

They were not laughing at the joker.
He was not taking exam last month.
You were not waiting for him yesterday.
She was not working in a factory.
It was not raining yesterday.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Interrogative sentences

Examples

Was she crying yesterday?
Were they climbing on a hill?

Were they laughing at the joker?
Was he taking exam last month?
Were you waiting for him yesterday?
Was she working in a factory?
Was it raining yesterday?

3)Future Continuous

Positive sentence

Examples

I will be waiting for you.
You will be feeling well tomorrow.

We will be shifting to a new home next year.
He will be flying a kite.
It will be raining tomorrow.
She will be enjoying her vacations.
He will be expecting honesty from his employees.
She will be delivering a speech to people.

Negative sentence

Examples

I will not be waiting for you.
You will not be feeling well tomorrow.

We will not be shifting to a new home next year.
He will not be flying a kite.
It will not be raining tomorrow.
She will not be enjoying her vacations.
He will not be expecting honesty from his employees.
She will not be delivering a speech to people.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Interrogative sentence

Examples

Will I be waiting for you?
Will you be feeling well tomorrow?

Will we be shifting to a new home next year?
Will he be flying a kite?
Will it be raining tomorrow?
Will she be enjoying her vacations?
Will he be expecting honesty from his employees?
Will she be delivering a speech to people?

Present Perfect Tense

Examples

I have eaten meal.
She has learnt a lesson

Negative Sentence

Examples

I have not eaten meal.
She has not learnt a lesson.

Interrogative Sentences

Examples

Have I eaten meal?
Has she learnt a lesson?

More Examples

Positive Sentences

They have gone to school.
They have bought a new car.
I have started a job
It has rained.
The guests have arrived
John has left for home.
You have told a lie.

Negative Sentences

They have not gone to school.
They have not bought a new car.
I have not started a job

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

It has not rained.
The guests have not arrived.
John has not left for home.
You have not told a lie.

Interrogative

Have they gone to school?
Have they bought a new car?
Have I started a job?
Has it rained?
Have the guests arrived?
Has John left for home?
Have you told a lie?

Present Perfect Continuous tense

Examples.

He has been watering the plants for two hours.
I have been studying since 3 O'clock

Negative Sentence.

Examples.

He has not been watering the plants for two hours.
I have not been studying since 3 O'clock.

Interrogative Sentence.

Examples.

Has he been watering the plants for two hours?
Have I been studying since 3 O'clock?

More examples

Positive sentences

It has been raining for three days.
I have been living in America since 2003.
He has been playing cricket for two hours.
They have been watching television since 6 O'clock.
She has been working in this office since 2007.

Negative sentences

It has not been raining for three days.
I have not been living in America since 2003.
He has not been playing cricket for two hours.
They have not been watching television since 6 O'clock.
She has not been working in this office since 2007.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Positive sentences

Has it been raining for three days?

Have I been living in America since 2003?

Has he been playing cricket for two hours.

Have they been watching television since 6 O'clock?

Has she been working in this office since 2007?

Past perfect tense

Structure of sentence.

Examples.

He had taken the exam last year

A thief had stolen my watch.

Negative sentence

Examples.

He had not taken the exam last year

A thief had not stolen my watch.

Interrogative sentence

Examples.

Had he taken the exam last year

Had a thief stolen my watch?

More Examples

Positive sentences

They had visited a doctor.

He had slept.

I had finished my work last year.

It had rained heavily last month.

The film had started before we reached cinema.

Negative sentences

They had not visited a doctor.

He had not slept.

I had not finished my work last year.

It had not rained heavily last month.

The film had not started before we reached cinema.

Interrogative sentences

Had they visited a doctor?

Had he slept?

Had I finished my work last year?

Had it rained heavily last month?

Had the film started before we reached cinema.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Past Perfect continuous tense

Positive Sentence.

Examples.

I had been waiting for him for one hour.
She had been playing chess since 7 O'clock.

Negative Sentence.

Examples.

I had not been waiting for him for one hour.
She had not been playing chess since 7 O'clock.

Interrogative Sentence.

Examples.

Had I been waiting for him for one hour?
Had she been playing chess 7 O'clock?

More examples.

Positive sentences

I had been living in America since 2003.
He had been playing cricket for two hours.
They had been watching television since 6 O'clock.
She had been working in this office since 2007.
It had been raining for three days.

Negative sentences

I had not been living in America since 2003.
He had not been playing cricket for two hours.
They had not been watching television since 6 O'clock.
She had not been working in this office since 2007.
It had not been raining for three days.

Positive sentences

Had I been living in America since 2003?
Had he been playing cricket for two hours.
Had they been watching television since 6 O'clock?
Had she been working in this office since 2007?
Had it been raining for three days?

Future Perfect tense

Structure of sentence

Positive sentence

Examples

She will have finished the work by Wednesday.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

I will have left for home by the time he gets up.
You will have started a job.

Negative sentence

Examples

She will have finished the work by Wednesday.
I will have left for home by the time he gets up.
You will not have started a job.

Interrogative sentence

Examples

Will she have finished the work by Wednesday?
Will I have left for home by the time he gets up?
Will you have started a job?

More Examples

Positive sentences

He will have finished his work.
You will have made a new chair.
She will have decorated her home.
I will have bought a computer.
They will have shifted to a new home.
Students will have passed the examination.

Negative sentences

He will not have finished his work.
You will not have made a new chair.
She will not have decorated her home.
I will not have bought a computer.
They will not have shifted to a new home.
Students will not have passed the examination.

Interrogative sentences

Will he have finished his work?
Will you have made a new chair?
Will she have decorated her home?
Will I have bought a computer?
Will they have shifted to a new home?
Will students have passed the examination?

Future Perfect Continuous tense

Structure of sentence.

Positive Sentence

Examples.

I will have been waiting for him for one hour.
She will have been playing football since 2015.

EXAMPLES OF SENTENCES

Negative Sentence.

Examples.

I will not have been waiting for him for one hour.
She will not have been playing football since 2015.

Interrogative Sentence.

Examples.

Will I have been waiting for him for one hour?
Will she have been playing football since 2015?

More examples.

Positive sentences

I will have been living in America since 2003.
He will have been playing cricket for two hours.
They will have been watching television since 6 O'clock.
She will have been working in this office since 2007.
It will have been raining for three days.

Negative sentences

I will not have been living in America since 2003.
He will not have been playing cricket for two hours.
They will not have been watching television since 6 O'clock?
She will have been working in this office since 2007.
It will not have been raining for three days.

Interrogative Sentence.

Will I have been living in America since 2003?
Will he have been playing cricket for two hours.
Will they have been watching television since 6 O'clock?
Will she have been working in this office since 2007?
Will it have been raining for three days?